Summer Play Being Planned

Plans for a summer production by the Hartnell college - community playhouse are being formulated, according to Mr. Hal Ulrici, director.

Mr. Ulrici said the show will probably be an old-fashioned melodrama which will coincide with the California rodeo festivities in Salinas during the middle of July.

"A few years ago a melodrama, 'For Her Chee-ild's Sake,' was presented during 'Big Week,' and it attracted quite a crowd because of its connection with the rodeo celebration," Mr. Ulrici recalled.

Last Show Praised

Regarding last week's presentation of "Lo and Behold," the college drama director said the play was considered outstanding and boasted one of the strongest casts in the group's history, but attendance was poor.

"I feel that those who did see the play did enjoy the comedy, and I was pleased with the production; the small audiences were excellent and highly commendable," said Mr. Ulrici.

One reason Mr. Ulrici gave for the slight attendance was the fact that the play is not as well known now as it was when it first came out in 1954.

Mr. Ulrici stated that he was pleased with the work of the cast and was very pleased with the people who acted with the Hartnell group for the first time.

La Reata Sales Lag Far Behind

According to La Reata sales managers Dave Wynne and Leo Layugan, about 250-300 yearbooks have been sold. This indicates the sales are lagging far behind the estimated 500 needed to break even.

"More than anything else we need some active and enthusiastic salesmen," said Mr. George Abbott, La Reata advisor. Prizes are offered for the top salesman. Pat Standen, last semester's winner, has left Hartnell, so the contention is wide open.

Anyone interested in selling yearbooks should contact Wynne, Layugan or Mr. Abbott.

The staff members are selling yearbooks in the main hall daily from 9-10 a.m. and Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1-3 p.m. Reduced rates for student body card holders are $2 for both issues and $1.25 for a single copy.

The spring edition will be ready for distribution in a couple of weeks.

Finals Scheduled

Final examinations for the spring semester will begin June 3 and will continue through June 11. Extended day classes will have finals during the last meeting of each class prior to June 11. Commencement exercises will be held June 12.

Copies of the final examination schedule can be obtained in the main office.

Hart Students Attend Meeting

The Hartnell delegation took an active participation at the California Junior College Student Government association conference at the Lafayette hotel in Long Beach last week end. The Hartnell delegates included Bill Throgmorton, Ethel Boutte, Jane Ross, Ruben Rueda, Robert Braun and Dr. Lionel Olsen.

The junior college delegates went on record as favoring a bill which is now before the United States congress and which would give a certain income tax exemption to college students with financial difficulties.

Dr. Myron Olsen of the University of Southern California gave the keynote address at Thursday evening's welcome banquet. According to Ethel Boutte, the Hartnell delegation drew up a resolution at the installation banquet Friday night for the northern region to challenge the southern region in a telephone booth stuffing contest at next fall's student government conference.

Modesto City college, which now holds the world's record for booth stuffing, is one of the host colleges for the next conference to be held at the Claremont hotel in Berkeley.

Proposed Position Being Discussed At Today's Assembly

The pros and cons of a proposed amendment to the student constitution which would include the addition of the office of commissioner of cultural activities will be discussed at today's assembly at 9 a.m.

Lotus Zuckswert and Bob Ludlow will present the "pro" side of the question, Diana Carriga and Jane Ross will present the "con" side. Carl Bergeron will act as moderator.

"Crescendos" Will Play For College Spring Prom

By Jerry McFadden

The "Crescendos" will furnish music for the Hartnell spring prom on May 23 in the Pacific room of the Hotel San Carlos in Monterey.

Contrary to common belief, the Crescendos are not a college group, but are made up of union musicians under the leadership of Gary Horsley, Hartnell music major. The reason for the formation of the band, says Horsley, was for personal experience as well as financial gain.

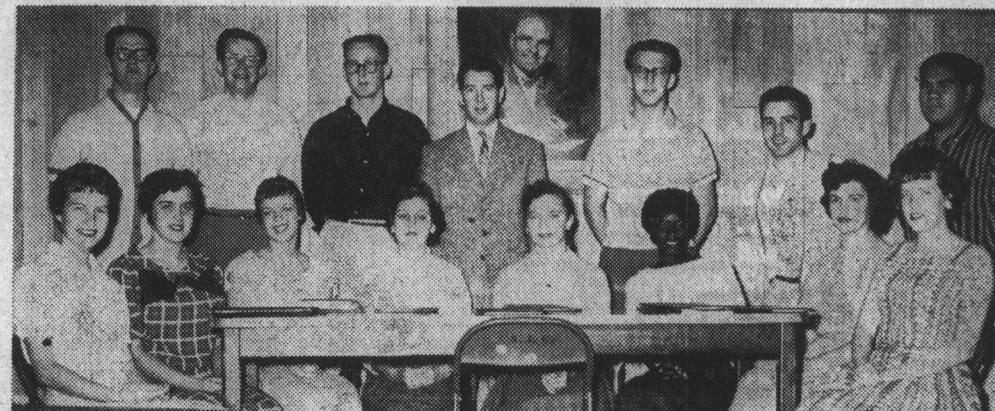

The band is composed of Mrs. Vannie Murphy, Salinas housewife, who plays the piano; Dan Edwards, Hartnell student from Southern California, and Horsley, both of whom play alto saxophone; Harold Hargus, graduate of North Texas State and music instructor at Spreckels, who plays tenor saxophone and flute; Bill Stretch, Hartnell student who plays trumpet; Leo Earl, Salinas, who plays drums, and Dick Tyler, graduate of San Francisco State and instructor at Salinas high school, who plays string bass and trombone.

The band attempts to achieve variety in the type of music played. The musicians play modern jazz, Dixieland and old standards. "We play no 'rock-and-roll,' except on request," said Horsley.

The band was organized last June, and since that time has met weekly to rehearse. Some of the band's engagements include club parties, proms, Fort Ord parties and dances at various schools in the area. The spring carnival was the first dance at Hartnell for which the Crescendos played.

Madrigals Ready for Tonight's Concert in Theater

■ Hartnell Madrigal singers who will join the college ensemble for a concert in the Little theater at 8 o'clock tonight are, front, left to right, Carol Lasserot, Diane Hayes, Diane Stone, Elsbeth Alito, Karen Henningsen, Gloria Everly, Rosalie Mascovich, Rosalee Ponting, and, rear, William Stretch, Walter Weydell, Dave Satre, Mr. Robert Lee, director, Ellis Wheeler, Staten Johnston and Ed Clark. (See page 5 for photo of ensemble.)

Four Hartnell coeds have been selected as candidates for the queen of the 1959 spring prom May 23 at the Hotel San Carlos.

Candidates and athletic team sponsors include Kay Reid, baseball; Jeanette Giacomazzi, track; Jane Ross, golf, and Carolyn Pettus, basketball. The tennis team had not made its selection at presstime. All five candidates will be introduced at a student assembly May 22.

Prom-goers will vote by ballot for the candidate of their choice at the dance. Announcement of the queen will be at 11:30. Punch will be served following the coronation.

The decorations for the prom will be highlighted by white flower trees, French travel posters and a Parisian park scene with a sidewalk cafe background.

Diane Stone will be the featured vocalist. Music will be furnished by the Crescendos.

According to Jane Ross, prom chairman, 81 bids had been sold and reserved by Tuesday.

Scholarships Available Here

The Phyllis Rosendale Thorup scholarship fund is making available four $100 scholarships to students who will return to Hartnell next year.

Applicants must have a "B" average, be carrying at least 14½ units and be doing satisfactory work this semester.

The Joanne O'Neill $50 scholarship is available through the Hartnell Ski club to any student with at least a 2.8 grade average.

The Community Service organization scholarship is open to any student of Spanish, Latin-American or Mexican descent who is planning to attend another college or university.

Interested students should contact Miss June Handley for additional information. Today is the deadline.

EDITORIAL:

What is an Education?

Being college bred doesn't mean a four-year loaf. This is an age where specialization is preferred over a liberal arts education. Yet there is a difference in being trained for a job and being educated for a job.

Animals are trained by disciplining and instructing them in the performance of certain tasks; soldiers are trained by making them proficient by instruction and practice; and unruly boys are trained by subjecting them to discipline and instruction.

A student is educated. He undergoes education, characterized by displaying qualities of culture and learning. Education is the acquisition or the imparting of knowledge, while training is to give discipline, instruction, drill and practice designed to impart proficiency.

There Is More to Life Than a Job

A great portion of your life is involved in more than your job. How you spend your leisure determines how well bred you are. There is more to college than just courses. You learn ideas which you have to live with.

Just as you learn to watch your diet, you must learn to put good things into your mind — good art, books and music. Being well bred may mean the difference between reading the Atlantic Monthly and the Reader's Digest. Reading the Atlantic Monthly presents a challenge while the Reader's Digest can be read and understood by those in junior high school.

Further examples of well bred can be found in the art that you view and the music to which you listen. Good art and music appreciation does not always come easy, and they do not come at the first glance or at the initial hearing. It requires developing the taste of one who is educated.

Just because Hartnell is a two-year college is no reason for students to slacken off on obtaining a complete and rounded education. It is the chance for the student to form and develop the habits and tastes of the well bred. Any animal can be trained, but only a student can be educated.

Library Atmosphere Aids "Tired" Students

By Bill Thornton

Arkansas State College Herald

Does the thought of studying make you as tired as if you had ironed all day in high heels? When you look at an exam, do you wonder if you're in the right classroom.

If your answers to these questions are "yes," and you aren't concerned, don't bother to finish this article; you're letting the pinball machine get cold. However, if you would like to bring up your grades — all of them — by at least one letter — read on.

Before you accept this intellectual A-bomb, let's cook up an imaginary situation for you to try on for size. Take English. You have to, you know. Suppose you've got a low "C," and your instructor just can't seem to get to you. Maybe it seems that ol' dad is square and can't help it. Well, here's the rub — an instructor just can't paint a lesson on your subconscious like he'd redecorate the kitchen — you've got to play ink-blotter, and absorb, or at least keep your eyes open in class. He should be able to expect that of you, in ANY case.

From there on in, you can work a miracle just by spending some time in the library. You don't have to drive yourself — just go in, sit down, and read the assignment.

Library Aids Study

Make a note of things which seem to be stressed in the paragraphs. The atmosphere in the library is conducive to concentration — it's easier to keep your mind on what you're reading. You'll be surprised at how much you'll remember from these easy-going sessions.

Maybe this doesn't sound like fun, even though you can get a "B" instead of a "C" by doing it. Well, man alive, this place wasn't laid out to be a carnival site, anyway. You're supposed to check in once in a while.

Fellows, the nights of black coffee and no-doz are near at hand. In a few short weeks, the dark clouds will start to gather and an awesome stillness will fall over the Hartnell campus. It will be finals week.

If you visit the cafeteria around this time you will not find the usual throngs of casual students, nor will you hear the blast of the "rock and roll" music coming from the jukebox. Even the "sleepers" in the lounge would be missing.

Where will all these conscientious students be? Why in the library — where else? These people are commonly known as "crammers" because they attempt to cram into their heads in one or two sessions everything that the instructor hoped they would learn by studying during the entire semester.

"Crammers" are universally known to put off until tomorrow what could and should be done today. If you are wondering what a "crammer" looks like, try the mirror and you will probably see one.

We are all in the "crammer's club." Everyone crams to a certain extent. It is an American tradition. To squeeze those B's into A's everyone should cram. When the times comes, get the black coffee or whatever can be used to stay awake and start cramming. Don't worry about us; we will be doing the same thing. We can only say, good luck to all.

Accountants Attend Meeting

Miss Ruth Rothrock, accounting instructor, and three of her students will attend a joint conference of the San Jose State college accounting department and the San Jose chapter of the California Society of Certified Public Accountants Saturday.

Speakers for the conference will be well-known business professors and certified public accountants. The students, Joseph Hawkins, Douglas Flint, William Lowell, and their instructor will leave at 7 a.m. Saturday for San Jose.

Capital Punishment Discussed by Panel

The last panel discussion of the 1958-59 series was held yesterday in the student union. The topic of the discussion was "Should Capital Punishment Be Abolished?"

Participants of the panel included Salinas attorneys, with Miss Eleanor Perry, Hartnell English instructor, as moderator.

William Bryan and Edmund Leach, Jr., were in favor of the retention of capital punishment, while Louis C. Moore and John Lamoreaux favored the abolition of capital punishment.

Meet Cancelled

The four-way night track meet between Hartnell, Monterey Peninsula college, Santa Clara Frosh and Fort Ord scheduled for last week was cancelled because of difficulties with the lighting at Monterey. The meet has not been rescheduled.

Saturday at Long Beach 63 JC's met for the statewide meeting of the California Junior College Student Government association. About 460 delegates were present, and, of course, our own beloved S.B. president, Bill Throgmorton, and his staff were on hand to carry Hartnell's colors to new glory.

Newly-elected Bob Braun was on hand to watch the "old pro" in action and to pick up pointers for next year. "Beloved" Bill did not disappoint his new successor. When "rabble rousing Southlanders" resorted to their old tactics of trying to bog down the meeting with arguments on inane technicalities pertaining to parliamentary procedure, "Beloved" Bill took the floor and routed the rebels with a resolution.

He asked the association to replace such asinine haggling next year with competitive telephone booth cramming on the grounds that telephone booth cramming is obviously more intellectual, more constructive, and certainly more entertaining than such adolescent bickering. Gleefully, Modesto JC seconded, and the silenced southerners found themselves in precisely the same position the Compton JC followers were at 11 p.m., Oct. 24, 1958, with their vanity shattered and their Tartars behind something like 35 to 6.

Graduation Speaker Proposed

The best idea we have overheard all week was one in which Mr. Walter Leineke suggested that Norm Barchi deliver a speech at Hartnell's graduation ceremony next month.

As most of you know, Mr. Leineke conducts the class, Speech 1A, his purpose being to cultivate our confiding cacology and to generate it into golden syllables worthy of a Daniel Webster. This semester Mr. Leineke has taken a diamond in the rough and truly developed a pearl.

If Coach Jess Regli had one baseball player as proficient in the national pastime as is Norm Barchi in the art of public speaking, every major league talent scout would be camping on Hartnell's campus offering bonuses the size of the national debt.

Barchi Top Speaker

We have heard several of Norm's speeches, and if the graduating students want their graduation this year to be really outstanding, we suggest that they speak seriously to Norm about addressing the graduation assemblage.

Those who know Norm know he certainly is not the type of guy who goes around honking his own horn. Quite understandably, he was reluctant to accept the suggestion when Mr. Leineke approached him. If you are graduating this June, talk to Norm seriously about the idea.

In answer to the letter in our mailbox: Veronica Lake's phone number is not listed under resorts.

Remark overheard coming out of speech class: "Instead of taping your speech they should have taped your mouth."

Latest word from Dr. B. L. Borough pertaining to the new tax rates: "It should be called Pay-As-You-Go-Without."

A sure way to learn the value of money: "Try to borrow some."

Latest word from Mr. Darwin Peavy: "The only exercise some people get is jumping at conclusions, running down their friends, sidestepping responsibility and pushing their luck."

A Vivamus member stated that his doctor has limited him to one drink a day. "And right now," he added, "I'm up to Feb. 27, 1969."

Foreign Man Likes Sports And Hartnell

By Jerry McFadden

Basketball, baseball and track are the hobbies of Alfred Bugante, foreign student from Pasay City, Philippine Islands.

Bugante landed in San Francisco on Nov. 16, 1958, on board the S.S. President Wilson, where he was met by his father and uncle. He came to Salinas with his uncle, Cipriano Insular, to attend Hartnell. His father returned to Los Angeles where he is a farmer.

Bugante chose Hartnell because "reliable information revealed that this was one of the best junior colleges in California."

Bugante's major is premedicine, but he is considering a change in curricula. He is on a student visa and must return home after he completes his college education. He has not decided where to continue his studies, but before he came to Hartnell he attended the Central Philippines university.

When asked to give his impression of the people here, he replied, "In general, I would say that people here are friendly, kind and helpful. I was pleased to see the atmosphere of the college. The instructors have friendly relations with the students and are ever ready to help them."

Bugante said that the biggest difference between here and his native republic is the automobiles. "In the Philippines cars are a luxury, only for those who are rich," he added.

Flint's Team Wins

The conclusion of the intramural softball season came with Doug Flint's team still in the winning position. Flint's team ended the season with 20 points. Ramona Insular's squad had 12 points, while Bob Oka's team had 17, Bob Grossman's group had five, and Ron Welch's team had two.

Bullis Elected Architect Head

Mr. William R. Bullis, Hartnell college architecture and engineering instructor, has been elected chairman of the architecture section of the Northern California Junior College association. He succeeds Mrs. Elizabeth Rempel of the College of San Mateo.

Jack Daniel, architecture instructor at San Mateo, will succeed Mr. Bullis as secretary of the section.

Supper Planned

The Newman club will hold a potluck supper May 27 at 5 p.m. in Sacred Heart Memorial hall. According to club advisor Mr. Randall Decker, the event is open to members and their guests. Members should see Lorie Nunes if they plan to go.

Bengston Chairman Of California Body

The commission on educational policy has recently prepared a publication entitled "Teacher Load," according to Mr. Karl Bengston, chairman of the commission and registrar at Hartnell.

The commission, under the direction of Mr. Bengston, consists of 14 teachers who prepare statements of policy on educational issues.

Mr. Bengston has been a member of the commission since 1957 and was appointed chairman in 1958.

Marine Biologists Visit Bay In Search for Sea Specimens

By John Fitzpatrick

A string of three orange and white skiffs, carrying 15 marine biology students and Dr. Howard Feder, were towed onto Monterey bay by an outboard motor on the morning of May 7.

This string of 12-foot-long skiffs, which had been rented at the Monterey municipal wharf, provided a "floating classroom" for Dr. Feder's class, which was on its eighth in a series of nine field trips.

There were numerous curious glances and questioning remarks from the bystanders on the wharves and in boats anchored in the colorful inner harbor. As the "floating classroom" was towed farther out into the bay, it received more questioning glances from the many squid fishing boats and salmon trollers that passed it.

As the skiffs left the inner harbor, the students were able to get closeup views of the California sea lions as they were rafting close to shore and on the tip of the coast guard jetty to avoid killer whales which have been seen in the bay recently, according to Dr. Feder.

Birds Observed

Various birds were seen flying over the bay. These included cormorants, which were rapidly skimming over the water's surface; loons, and western grebes as they floated and dived into the ocean; surf skooters, as they floated and flew rapidly over the waves, and western gulls.

The chain of skiffs moved slowly through the bay. Two skiffs made "plankton hauls" by pulling a small, circular net at the end of a 30-foot line. One net was pulled just below the surface while the other was pulled at a depth of 15 feet.

The students were also using long-handled nets to scoop things off the surface of the water near the skiffs. Soon the students were examining an assortment of weird little creatures which came out of seemingly clear water.

Skiffs Break Loose

A few anxious moments developed when the last two skiffs came untied from the outboard motorboat and the first skiff. The "floating classroom" was quickly reunited and then towed to the kelp beds.

At the kelp beds, which were located approximately 300 yards from the beaches, the motorboat stopped and let the skiffs drift above the kelp which could be seen through the clear water from the surface as it receded into the green-blue depths to its

Education Differences Noted by Foreigner

By Judy Wong

Transferring from San Jose State college this semester is a 23-year-old electrical engineering major, Leslie Mathias from Bombay, India.

Mathias has been in the United States on a student visa since September, 1957. Prior to his arrival here, he attended Bombay university for two years.

One prominent difference, Mathias related, in the educational systems of the countries is the absence of a semester system in India. The final examinations are given at the conclusion of the academic year by the university instead of by individual instructors.

American Study Harder

"Because of this type of examination program, I feel that India's students do not study as much as American students since your examinations come more often," said Mathias. He added that the examinations are comprehensive, bluebook type, and there are no IBM scored exams.

In talking about India, Mathias pointed out the existence of class distinction among the people. In relation to the situation, Mathias said, "The caste system will eventually be eliminated because of the younger generation's way of thinking; however, the abolishment of the system will require much time and effort."

The credit system is nonexistent in India. Everything must be paid for in cash. "This accounts for the small number of automobiles in our country," asserted Mathias.

Styles Much Different

He stated that Americans' "flashy" and "ivy league" apparel is quite a contrast to the conservative British styles he is accustomed to seeing.

Mathias's foremost interests include night club and ballroom dancing and electrical work.

Fashion Show Slated On Campus May 26

The latest in women's fashions will be displayed at 8 p.m. May 26 in the student union when the Hartnell clothing and tailoring classes present a fashion show for the student body and the public.

Students will model the various garments they have made during the year, including skirts, blouses, dresses, coats and suits.

According to Miss Gladys Schmidt, clothing instructor, 30 women will be modeling approximately 70 outfits.

A black wool and mink hair full length coat made by Mrs. Mary Sherwood will be one of the highlights. Mrs. Sherwood will also be modeling a hat she made to harmonize with the coat.

Joan Erickson will be modeling a two-piece red boucle suit which features the empire line.

Diana Chin will serve as moderator and Terrie LaMacchia will provide the background music.

History Discussed

Mr. Robert Johnston, Hartnell history instructor, discussed the history of Salinas for a group of librarians recently. Attending were librarians from Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey counties.

H.S. Seniors Visit Classes, Take Test For English Courses

High school seniors from Salinas, King City and Gonzales have visited Hartnell college recently for a special get-acquainted program.

According to Dr. Lionel Olsen, dean of student personnel, the students have heard a musical program directed by Mr. Lorell McCann and Mr. Robert Lee, music instructors; short talks by Dr. J. F. Ching and Mr. Stuart Dufour, college administrators; and brief tours of the campus.

The students visited classes in the mornings and took the English placement examination in the afternoon.

Gary Horsley, Hartnell music major, was awarded the 12th $50 Friends of Music scholarship to San Francisco State which he will attend next fall.

The scholarship was awarded after his clarinet solo at the Friends of Music concert on May 6. "It was a total surprise," said Horsley.

The scholarship was accompanied by a certificate of merit given by the Friends of Music and presented by Mr. Lorell McCann, music instructor at Hartnell.

Horsley has also been informed that he is the recipient of a $50 credit award for music from the Morse M. Preeman company in Los Angeles. Mrs. Edith Kritner, assistant general manager, made the announcement.

Tomasini Gets Finance Post

Leo Tomasini, business administration major from Sole dad, has been appointed by the student body commission to serve as the 1959-60 Hartnell commissioner of finance.

His two main duties will be to maintain a record of the financial business of the student body and to act as chairman of the budget committee.

Tomasini, Ruben Rueda, present finance commissioner, and the budget committee are now setting up the budget for the coming academic year.

Tomasini plans to transfer to San Jose State college after he completes his studies at Hartnell.

Dr. Wilson Planning Summer Research In New York City

Dr. James Wilson, Hartnell science instructor, has received an invitation to do research work at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York City this summer.

The Hartnell teacher will collaborate with Dr. E. L. Tatum and Dr. Laura Garnjobst in working on problems concerning biochemical genetics.

Dr. Tatum and Dr. George Beadle of the California Institute of Technology received the Nobel prize in medicine this year for their work in the development in the field of biochemical genetics.

Dr. Wilson will fly to New York in July to begin his work.

Party Planned

Hartnell Ski club party will be held tomorrow at Big Sur. The party should start around noon, according to Diane Stone. The cost is $1.50 per student. Approximately 25 students are expected at the party which will include swimming and dancing. Barbecue steaks will be served.

Ensemble Rehearses for Little Theater Concert

Petition Sent To Ed Sullivan

The petition recommending Staten Johnston for the Ed Sullivan show will soon be mailed along with letters of recommendation from local Lincoln-Mercury dealers.

The parcel to Sullivan will include photographs of Johnston and Jimmie Edwards, who accompanies Johnston on the banjo, five of the best recordings by Johnston, the petition of approximately 600 names, and letters of recommendation from the United Services organization, Monterey Soldier's club and King City fair officials.

"We are hopeful of getting the parcel to Sullivan before he makes up his college program for graduation week. It is during that week that Sullivan presents college talent," said Ray Wilson, originator of the petition.

Silliman Collection Moved to New Site

The O. P. Silliman book collection was transferred to the new library this week by workmen.

It was necessary to transfer the books early because the present shelves will be used in the new Silliman library, according to Miss Luella Wiens, head librarian. The books have been stored temporarily in the regular stack area of the new library. This area will be used for unbound magazines when the final transfer is made.

Since the Silliman library will be larger in the new library, other shelves also had to be removed from the main library. The books from these shelves have been placed temporarily in the present Silliman area.

Jewelry, Ceramics, Paintings Being Sold by College Artists

A jewelry, ceramics and painting sale was held this week in the main hall by the Hartnell Art club. Proceeds went toward the club's scholarship fund.

Jewelry included cuff links, tie clips and earrings made by the Art club members and the crafts class under the direction of Mr. Joseph Bragdon. Jewelry prices range from 75 cents to $1.25.

Vases, bowls and other types of ceramics were sold for $1 to $1.50. These items were made by Mr. Leon Amyx's ceramics class.

Paintings Available

The paintings, also by students, were priced individually and by sets.

Several specialty items were "exclusively" made for the pre-med student, the astronomer, the musician and the modern dance enthusiast.

Porter Tops Harts In League Averages

Mike Porter, Hartnell left fielder, led the Panthers in batting with a .375 in 10 Coast conference games, according to Ed Avila, statistician. The Panthers had a team batting average of .271.

Other averages included: Sal Martinez, .354; Dick Juarez, .342; Dennis Andersen, .304; Nick Scurich, .286; Carl Bergeon, .258; Nelson Foreman, .250; Ken Catalano, .235; Willie Wittman, .216; Frank Filice, .189, and Duane Schneider, .143. Merle Young and Joe Palacio failed to hit.

Scout Heads Named

Two Hartnell students are leaders of a new Boy Scout troop in North Salinas. The students, Gerald Little, scoutmaster, and James Maloney, assistant scoutmaster, have charge of 19 boys, all of whom are just out of Cub Scouts and are working for their tenderfoot badges.

Dramatists Plan Tennis Playoff

Board members have announced that the Delta Psi Omega Second Annual Invitational tennis tournament will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday on the Hartnell courts.

Participants are receiving invitations throughout this week. The tournament is strictly mixed doubles with double elimination, one set constituting a match. Trophies are awarded to both members of the winning team.

Eligible participants are determined according to drama interest, drama participation, and any member of the Delta Psi Omega is automatically invited. Partners are determined by the official board of directors.

Last year's champion, George Whitney, is expected to be on hand to defend his title. Since it is impossible for his last year's partner to attend, a suitable partner will be selected for him by the official screening committee.

Newspaper Staffers Visit Media Tuesday

Eight Panther Sentinel staff members will visit the Morgan Hill Times, KRON-TV channel four and the San Francisco Examiner when they travel to San Francisco on their annual field trip Tuesday.

The students will visit the Morgan Hill Time en route to San Francisco. To be eligible for this trip, students must have worked either last semester or the current one on Panther Sentinel.

The students are Judy Wong, Jerry McFadden, Sandra Eagleton, John Fitzpatrick, Rosemarie LoMonaco, Santiago Flores and Bob Thompson. Mr. George Abbott will accompany the students.

Hartnell Gets New Track

By Jim Stireman

Hartnell's dream of a new stadium may come into reality after all. The construction of a new track at the west end of the campus may be the first step towards the stadium.

The track, which is expected to be usable next spring, will be a fully equipped and up-to-date setup and will include grandstands in order that spectators may have a better view of the meets.

All field events will be arranged so they will be easily viewable from these stands and so the majority of the running events will finish directly in front of them.

More Windbreak Planned

Trees have been planted to block off winds and there are plans for the building of a backstop behind the grandstands to block off even more winds.

The inner grasses of the track will also be used as a practice field for the football team next fall if the grass is ready at the time.

Word has it also that Hartnell will have its first coach's clinic in history on May 30. Invited are all the local high school coaches and some of the nearby junior college coaches.

Presiding over the event will be our own Coach Ken Blue. He will demonstrate various split "T" offenses and various types of defenses. This may be a very interesting and enlightening event.

Hart Thinclads Shine at Fresno

Hartnell's seven-man entry in the Fresno relays Saturday turned in a creditable performance, while the Panther distance medley relay team took fourth place in the junior college entries.

Dan Likens, competing in the open javelin throw, had the top throw of the afternoon in the junior college division with a toss of 208 feet six inches. This is a new Hartnell college record.

In the medley relay Fred Ertman ran his 440 in 51.2, Terry Hogan ran his 880 in 2:03.2, Bruce Logan ran his 1320 in 3:15.6 and Rudy Garcia ran his mile in 4:45.

Herb Naslund and Andy Bulaich competed in the weight events but their best efforts of the season failed to win them places in the events.

Baseballers End Season With Double Victory

Hartnell's baseball squad wound up its season Saturday as it took a doubleheader from Diablo Valley on the local diamond.

Dennis Andersen was the winning pitcher in the first game as the Panthers came out the victors behind Ken Catalano's homerun by the score of 6-5. Mike Porter was the big gun of the contest as he belted two hits for four times at bat and scored twice for the Panthers.

In the second contest Nelson Foreman was the winning pitcher as the Harts won 13-2. Porter homered and doubled in three times at bat and scored three times for the Panthers.

Approximately 30 students from Hartnell participated in the event. They were accompanied by Miss Ruth Dally, woman's physical education instructor.

Panther Tennis Star Tom Gomez

Meets Varied and Busy Schedule

By Judy Wong

"I'm always pressed for time; it's always one thing right after another and I have to really keep at it."

So declared 19-year-old Tom Gomez, Panther tennis star, swimming instructor, poultry ranch worker and Hartnell student.

Not very many students are faced with such a heavy schedule and are able to carry out all the obligations. Gomez says he does all his work by careful time organization.

He spends Tuesday and Thursday evenings a swimming instructor at the Gilroy Red Cross water safety organization. On week ends he works on a poultry ranch. In between these two he is able to excel at tennis by putting in many practice sessions and he still finds time to study for his classes.

Gomez is well known as a talented and skilled tennis player. In the recent Coast conference tennis tournament, he was the only Panther to advance midnight or later," remarked Gomez about his daily work. to the finals. He defeated players from Diablo Valley college and Monterey Peninsula college before bowing to a Menlo contender.

Coach Darwin Peavy said that Gomez was the top man on the squad and that "he is really a hard-working fellow who has shown much improvement since last season."

One might take it for granted that Gomez's future plans include a career in athletics; however, the truth is that he intends to explore the mathematics field at the University of California.
